Our wine menu seeks to highlight small producers with a unique style. Providing you with an intimate selection, we've also included some classics which we believe representative of place. Many of our producers follow a minimalist approach to wine-making, exemplifying terroir, vintage and vine. For this reason, a large selection of our wines are organic / biodynamic and made in a non-interventionist manner. We hope that this menu is new and exciting for you. Explore, have fun, and please don't hesitate to ask for assistance when making your selection.

Vin Jaune

Evaporating in barrel over several years without replenishment, then aging under a yeast voile (flor in Spanish; much like fino sherry), it shares similar characteristics to its southern cousin, yet completely unique in its own way. Super complex, viscous, herbaceous, rich yet extremely dry, Vin Jaune is perfect as an apéritif, with cheese or in its own right.

Featured Producer

Comando G. - Garnachas from DO Madrid

Since founding the Comando G project a little more than twelve years ago, it has become synonymous with a vibrant new wave of Spanish wine. Working only in a few special villages within the Sierra de Gredos, Daniel and Fernando have consistently produced some of the finest, most delicate and most terroir focused Garnachas in the world. Their single vineyard wines are now cult bottles that are regularly compared to great Burgundy. And the super rare white, El Tamboril, from a single vineyard at 1230m above sea level, only produced enough grapes in 2014 to bottle a wine for only the second time in six years. These wines are focused, terroir driven masterpieces.

2014 Comando G. 'El Tamboril' Garnacha Blanca / Garnacha Gris - 195

El Tamboril is a single 0.2ha vineyard located in the village of Navatalgordo at 1230 meters altitude and is the last of the vineyards to ripen. The vines here are around 90 years old, planted on white granite laced with quartz. This wine deliciously textured, but still super fine, all rind and chamomile.

2015 Comando G. 'La Bruja' Garnacha Tinto - 85

This, the entry level 'village' wine of Rozas, is grown between 800 and 900 meters altitude on decomposed granitic sands. The 2015 vintage was long and warm, providing more generosity than previous vintages, contributing depth + structure to this ethereal, red fruit beauty.

2014 Comando G. 'Tumba del Rey Moro' Garnacha Tinto - 265

Tumba del Rey Moro is a single vineyard of 0.5ha in near the town of Villanueva, at 1100m altitude on incredibly steep rocky granite. It was brought back to life after being abandoned over the course of 9 years, with 2014 being only the second vintage released since the Comando team has started working it. Tumba is vibrant, powerful, pure, racy and energetic.

IBERIAN REDS

Mencia

Despite clearly being the best red variety (of dozens) native to Galicia, rusticity in production means that until now little good or interesting wine has been made from it. That's changing rapidly however, with pioneers of the variety – such as Alvaro Palacios and his nephew Ricardo (DJP) – clearly entrenching Mencia as one of Spain's most desired.

Fun / Funky / Alternative Reds

You may not have heard of the producer - in fact, you may not have heard of the grape - but we believe that these unique, funky and sometimes peculiar wines deserve a place on our list. Many of these are naturally made with minimal - if any - use of sulphur, but that's not why they're here, they've earned their place because they're delicious!
