

WINE MENU

Our wine menu seeks to highlight small producers with a unique style. Providing you with an intimate selection, we've also included some classics which we believe representative of place. Many of our producers follow a minimalist approach to wine-making, exemplifying terroir, vintage and vine. For this reason, a large selection of our wines are organic / biodynamic and made in a non-interventionist manner. We hope that this menu is new and exciting for you. Explore, have fun, and please don't hesitate to ask for assistance when making your selection.

Vin Jaune

Evaporating in barrel over several years without replenishment, then aging under a yeast voile (flor in Spanish; much like fino sherry), it shares similar characteristics to its southern cousin, yet completely unique in its own way. Super complex, viscous, hearbaceous, rich yet extremely dry. Vin Jaune is perfect as an apéritif, with cheese or in its own right.

Garnacha / Garnatxa – a.k.a Grenache from the motherland

Debate persists whether Garnacha (Garnatxa in Catalan) is transplanted Grenache introduced to Spain, or whether it is entirely of local origin. After thousands of years of local evolution however, the Garnatxa of Montsant and Priorat is entirely adapted to the locale, and is different to Grenache anywhere else. A variant called Garnacha Peluda (hairy Garnacha) does however exist and is in fact derived from French Grenache. This strain was introduced a couple of hundred years ago, and it too is highly naturalised.

Featured ProducerDescendientes de J. Palacios - Mencia from DO Bierzo

2015 Decanter Magazine Man of the Year, Alvaro Palacios and his nephew – the 'descendientes' of Alvaro's father Jose – are responsible for the newest addition to the Palacios portfolio, setting up this groundbreaking winery in 1999. The winery lies in the village of Vilafranca de Bierzo, with the surrounding mountains scattered with their tiny plots of biodynamically grown, old vine Mencia.

2014 DJP 'Petalos' - 105

Petalos is the regional expression of Mencia from Bierzo. With 12 months in older French oak, it's lively, vibrant and savoury with hints of cherry and roast capsicum.

2011 DJP 'Corullón' - 165

Vine age of between 50–90 years, from un-irrigated, high altitude, tiny parcels. This wine is complex, dark savoury forrest berries and fresh, tight tannins.

2005 DJP 'Moncerbal' - 298

100+ year old vines from a tiny 0.86 hectare plot at 700m, this miniscule production of only 8 barrels presents concentrated, brooding forrest elements. At 12 years of age, this wine is looking phenomenally youthful, vibrant and unbelievably fresh...just outstanding!

Fun / Funky / Alternative Reds

You may not have heard of the producer – in fact, you may not have heard of the grape – but we believe that these unique, funky and sometimes peculiar wines deserve a place on our list. Many of these are naturally made with minimal – if any – use of sulphur, but that's not why they're here, they've earned their place because they're delicious!
